Profile

Marc Henrie was elected to UNI Financial Cooperation's Board of Directors in April 2021, having been involved with the financial cooperative for almost 20 years. Marc sat on the Caisse populaire Sud-Est's Board of Directors from 2013 until the collective bridging and creation of UNI Financial Cooperation, when he became a founding member of the Regional Cooperative Community Committee for the southeast region.

Since completing a Bachelor of Business Administration from the Université de Moncton, Moncton campus, and a master's in Cooperative Management and Community Development from the Université de Sherbrooke, Mr. Henrie has worked for more than 15 years in the field of economic and community development.

Marc Henrie is the Executive Director of CDR-Acadie (Coopérative de développement régional Acadie), where he puts his entrepreneurial flair to work in social enterprises and joint projects that have an influence on Atlantic Canada's francophone community.

Marc Henrie specializes in governance structures, financial plans and cooperative education. He has been part of the success of over 40 cooperatives and other organizations, including businesses and various non-profit organizations. In 2006 he became the youngest chair of a Local Service District in New Brunswick history. Six years later he was named chair of the new Kent Regional Services Commission (KRSC) and received the Young Cooperator of the Year Award.

His dedication and engagement are seen in his involvement with numerous community issues. Marc Henrie believes in the integral development of Acadia and is dedicated to the growth of the Acadian community.
